inspiring dance workshops – atyp

In October, Kristina Chan and Craig Bary conducted a series of workshops for the ensemble groups at the Australian Theatre for Young People in Sydney. Working with concepts and ideas that were the starting points for Tanja Liedtke's work construct, the young performers built their own interpretations and creative extensions to these ideas. While these students are more familiar with theatre craft and text based work, they approached this physical expression with enthusiasm and a remarkable level of invention.

Our fellow 2013 Joseph Simons and his work "FIRST THINGS FIRST"

"The Tanja Liedtke Foundation is delighted that Joseph has been able to make the most of his Fellowship opportunity to develop First Things First. We would like to congratulate him in bringing the work to full production stage and wish him much success for the tour and into the future.

Best wishes for the Christmas season to all our supporters.

From all at TLF.
